COLD PRESSED GRAPSEED OIL

A Different Oil.....

A Fruit Oil from the grape!

100% UPCYCLED

Salute Santé! Celebrates their 30 Year Anniversary!

“After 30 years of pioneering the grapeseed oil industry, it is an honor to have won the 2023 Gold SOFI for our cold, pressed grapeseed oil and it’s wonderful to be recognized by the Specialty Food Association for our quality” says Valentin Humer, founder and oil maker of Salute Santé! That was featured on HBO MAX in the show What Am I Eating with Zooey Deschanel, episode 1 Big Fat Lies, culminating with Salute Santé! - the best oil choice for you and the planet.

“We are passionate about making GOOD for YOU FOOD and keeping our carbon footprint low. That might sound trendy today, but it didn’t when we started making grapeseed oil 30 years ago” says Nanette Humer, co-founder of Food & Vine Inc. “All of our plant-based grapeseed oils are delicious, healthy and good for you and the Earth. Our process completes the cycle of the grape, making us a zero waste food.”

Salute Santé!® is 100% Cold Pressed Grapeseed Oil and nothing else. It starts with UPCYCLED, Non GMO grapeseeds from wineries in Napa, Italy and Portugal so there is no need for hybrid or genetically modified crops. Nor does it need new farmland, fertilizer or water, and most import it is a FRUIT oil from the mighty grape - its botanical source, which is the single determining factor that separates our oil from seed oils!

Loved by the best chefs, from Jean-Georges Vongerichten to Thomas Keller, Salute Santé! is their choice for delicious, healthy cooking - from salad dressings, aioli and marinades to hot preparations like searing, sautéing, grilling, BBQ and baking. Today we are proud to be the go-to oil for the best chefs, commissary kitchens and home kitchens.

Compared to other fruit oils like olive oil and avocado oil, our fruit oil is the lowest in saturated fat, the highest in essential linoleic acid and is naturally high in vitamin E and valuable antioxidants. Studies have shown that grapeseed oil may significantly raise HDL (the good) cholesterol and lower both LDL (the bad) cholesterol and triglycerides, which may lower your risk of cardiovascular disease, stroke, diabetes and impotence. This is something that no other food has been known to do!

So make our FRUIT oil your medicine! DELICIOUS, HEALTHY & EASY - never tasted so good!

Available in food service packaging, bulk for manufacturers and in retail size packaging for the home chef.
